ABOUT US

CareX Australia is a leading provider of Disability and Aged Care services in NSW with a continuing passion for safe and excellent service delivery. We recognise our consumer's care needs on time, advocate for them and deliver services according to the mutually agreed care plans. We also believe in the importance of cultural competence in the delivery of care. Hence, we recognise the significant contributions made by our consumers, staff, Indigenous organisations, and other members and organisations in the community in shaping our culturally appropriate services.

OUR APPROACH

At CareX Australia, we acknowledge that each individual is unique and we believe in person-centered care, which is tailored to meet individual needs and goals. Services designed by our leading clinicians help our consumers to protect their rights and choices, increase their independence, and encourage them to discover and participate in new opportunities and support them to live their life, their way. Our clinicians and other staff members focus on each consumer's strengths and interests with a person-centered recovery approach to maximise their opportunity in meeting life goals.
